IRIS NATIONAL SCIENCE FAIR 2015

The IRIS National Science Fair Workshop was held at Modern School, Barakhamba Road. Our student Shreyas Kapur was selected not only to attend the National Science Fair 2015 but he also won the Gold Award for the year 2015 at the IRIS National Science Fair held at IIT, Delhi in December. It was a week-long fair where students from various schools across the country participated. The project by Shreyas was declared the Best Project by the judges who were scientists from various fields. His work on "CELLPHONE BASED OPTOMETRY USING FREQUENCY FILTERED HYBRID IMAGES" is a part of Team India 2016 for Intel ISEF.

This work is a substitute for the $13,000 machines that are used to assign eyeglass prescription with a simple mobile app which is very useful to the developing world. There were almost 18,000 students competing from India for this award. If he wins at the ISEF, which will be held at U.S.A., he will have the honour of having a minor planet named after him and a cash award of $ 75,000!!
