ASTRONOMY SESSION

The Astronomy Club module 2 session was held on 6th February 2017. This session taught the students about the Manual Barn Door Tracker used in the modern world to track celestial bodies. Knowledge about certain pointers of the pole star and the rotation of the earth was given before the session began. First the need of these trackers was discussed after which the characteristics of a good tracker were determined. The barn door tracker is a simple, easy and compact tracker for beginners. The students assembled their tracker with the help of the instructors. The students took a laser beam as an imaginary star and had to take a stationary photograph of the red dot of the laser. Each student got a chance to test all the things they had learnt in the session.

THE D.E.A.R. PROJECT

The D.E.A.R. Project enthusiastically continues inculcating the value and importance of books, as well as reading in the students.

Some of the initiatives taken include a current affairs quiz held on 16th December. It aimed at testing the students on their general knowledge. More such quizzes have been scheduled to take place during the class teacher's period. To motivate the students further, a display board in the S.S. Block has been dedicated to an author each month. It displays information about the author, his famous book titles and the values emphasized in each book. The author for the month of December was Ruskin Bond. Another display board has been adorned with book covers of famous books. These book covers have been made by the students.

On 11th January the D.E.A.R. team of classes 9 and 10 visited the International Book Fair. The students had the golden opportunity to meet Mr Ruskin Bond, an author whose books everyone has grown up reading. The students found it as 'a fulfilling day' with books, books and more books.
