Do it yourself - 'SLIPPERY SLOPES FRICTION HOLDER' game created by Divij Wahi of S3E

This game can be played as a multiplayer game or as a single-player game also. There are a total of 5 balls - 4 metallic and 1 rubber ball. The steps are as follows-

1. You insert the ball into the vacant area where the word START is mentioned.
2. The red-colored structures are actually the parts from where we move the game left and right to balance out the ball till the end. These are quite similar to the remotes in video games and PlayStation which are used to maneuver the game in different directions.
3. You will get points on behalf of your hand control. In this way, the game is played and can easily be enjoyed. Remember the name - SLIPPERY SLOPES FRICTION HOLDER
