“Painting is silent poetry and poetry is a painting that speaks”

A Mother's Tear

I sit and I watch on this day of rain,
For Mother nature is crying again.

Her tears flow from up in the skies,
To the ground below as I emphasize.

Listen to her sob, the winds they wail,
See her face, those skies are pale.

She is helping all like a Mother should,
With life giving water her tears, good!

Painting and poem by Myra Agarwal - S3B

“CHANCE”

To watch us dance is to give us a chance,
A chance to perform and show various forms.

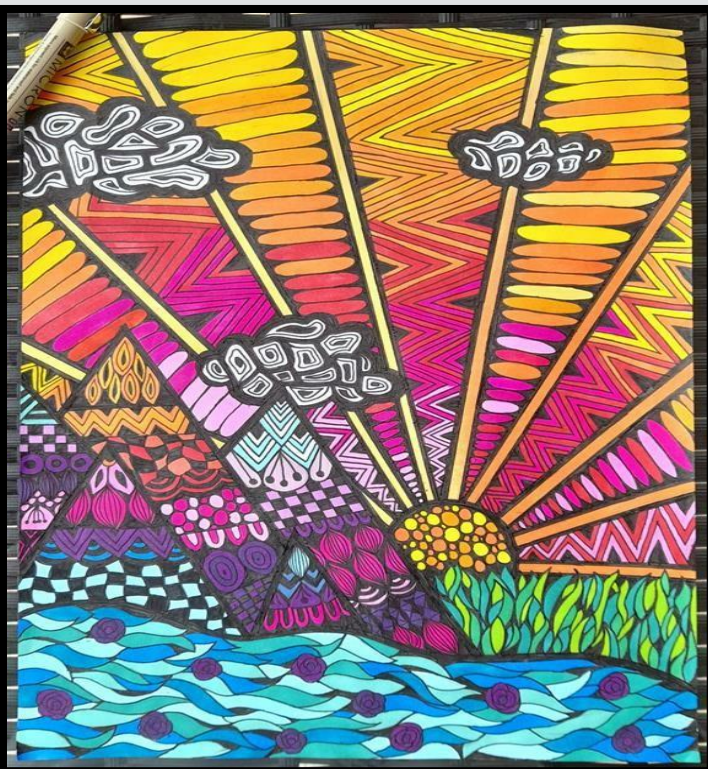

This is our heritage and culture,
which we ought to preserve and nurture.

We want to bring out our very best,
As this is our test.

We want you to hear what our heart speaks,
so watch our dance streaks.

Watch our dance and give us a Chance!

Painting and poem by Manasvi Rani – S2B

DOODLING

Doodling by itself is an art that gives peace and pleasure. It has the power to make people more expressive. Doodling also relieves stress and anxiety and improves concentration, patience and accuracy. It can express stories more than words ever could. It is phenomenal how our wild imagination can be put on to an empty piece of paper. You won't know unless you try it.
