Tone It Up”

Women of the world, Unite

Stop asking women to tone it down. Stop asking them to stay quiet. A lot has changed over the period of time and still a lot needs to be done. It is said to be a powerful and modernized time. However, for many women time has stood still. Gender discrimination is rampant in this part of the world and the common mindset supports it. Most women are not chosen for leadership jobs as people think they are not fit to lead. Their salaries are not at par with men. They are looked at as vulnerable and thus often easy targets. The concept of feminism is not a new one as to fight for women and make places secure. This concept has evolved over a period of time and contemporary idea covers men and women fighting for equal rights for women. This particular concept has revolutionised the approach of the movement. One is aware of the discriminations faced by women still both at the urban and rural settings. So rather than highlighting about the shortcomings one should pay attention to the possible solutions to it. First and foremost the public-private division needs to be levelled up. The two genders are an integral part of human civilisation and it is imperative to keep the balance in tact. Today from all the parts of the world there is a clarion call for gender equality and it's high time that we started changing our mindset which is the stepping stone to change the world.
