An Unspoken Truth

*In a cage everyday suffocated and trapped,
Free me,
Let me be,
And a better world you shall see.
Nature, animals and trees,
They are the only key.
We have emotions,
We are one,
Play with me,
I promise you fun.
Unity is the only way,
We all shall come.*

*Under the weight of this net,
Free me and the sun shall never set.*

Modern School, Barakhamba Road, is not just an educational institution but also a garden with thousand budding flowers of their own kind, nurturing them every passing year with a core value system. This system allows creative young minds to come forward to showcase their artistic side. The school encourages all students to be able to express their feelings and emotions freely without any judgement criteria. This allows the children to be most expressive that exposes them to the world of vulnerability which is indispensable in the absolute growth of a child.
