ELDER CARE

BY TANAY JALAN

MY EXPERIENCE

ne, spending time with my ndparents and caring for m was a truly rewarding arience. Listening to their es had a profound impact ie and i learned about the om and grace that comes age . It helped me develop se of empathy and respect uly reflects in the person i am today.

PROBLEM

The main problems associated withe eldercare are: Increase in the number of senior citizens which has put a burden on the insufficient existing eldercare infrastructure Loneliness and isolation of the elders is also huge problems as they rarely have meaningful conversations and very little human interaction

SOLUTIONS

I believe that a community based approach is the key to solve these problems. This should include building of senior centers and volunteer programs to facilitate intergenerational interaction. Home care cooperatives can be started to provide in home care at affordable prices and in order to empower caregivers
