On Saturday, June 29, 2024, the Annual Orientation Meeting for the faculty, for the new academic session was graced by the presence of Principal Dr Vijay Datta, who led the event in the school's auditorium. This pivotal gathering united the entire faculty to reflect on the past year's triumphs, confront ongoing challenges, and set ambitious goals for the journey ahead.

Dr Datta opened the session with a heartfelt welcome, expressing his profound gratitude for the staff's unwavering dedication and relentless hard work. He took a reflective pause to celebrate the school's outstanding achievements over the previous year, showcasing the successes in academics, sports, and extracurricular activities. The Principal highlighted the collective spirit and shared commitment to excellence that made these victories possible, reminding the faculty of the power of teamwork.

Yet, Dr Datta swiftly moved to caution against complacency, urging the staff to continually strive for excellence. He challenged the faculty to “give their best and never rest on past laurels,” emphasizing the need for continuous innovation in the teaching-learning process. He introduced novel methods and techniques designed to captivate students’ interest, urging the staff to embrace technology as a tool for crafting more engaging and dynamic learning environments. The Principal also discussed the importance of developing personalized learning plans tailored to the unique needs of each student.

A key focus of Dr Datta’s address was the cultivation of critical thinking skills within students. He encouraged educators to move beyond traditional rote learning, advocating for a curriculum that nurtures analytical, evaluative, and creative abilities. Additionally, he reinforced the significance of life skills as an integral component of education, emphasizing that these competencies would not only pave the way for academic success but also equip students to navigate the complexities of life beyond the classroom.

The highlight of the meeting was an inspiring presentation that showcased the myriad activities undertaken both on and off campus during the summer break. From educational trips and workshops to faculty training programs and student-led initiatives, the presentation reflected the school’s philosophy that learning is an ongoing journey—one that, as Dr Datta aptly remarked, “Modern never sleeps.”

As the meeting drew to a close, Dr Datta expressed his unshakable confidence in the staff’s ability to continue delivering exceptional education. He urged them to maintain the momentum, explore new avenues for growth, and reach for even greater heights in the upcoming year. His closing remarks were a stirring call to action, reminding everyone that while the past year was extraordinary, the future holds even greater promise if they remain united in their mission.

The meeting concluded on an inspiring note, leaving the staff energized and ready to embrace the challenges of the new session with renewed enthusiasm and vigor. Dr Datta’s words resonated deeply, setting an optimistic and determined tone for the year ahead.
